

Hoggard High School

Honor Code

The honor code of Hoggard High School is designed to create a learning environment that is beneficial to all students. The implementation of this policy is to protect the integrity and reputation of all students, faculty, administration, and the school as a whole. By abiding by this policy, I agree that I will not willfully lie, cheat, or plagiarize in any way, whether verbal or written, on any of my academic endeavors. I furthermore agree that I will do my best to prevent others from breaking this honor code by reporting any violation of which I am aware.

At Hoggard High, cheating is defined as the act of using information from another source and using it as one's own. Plagiarism is the act of using another's work or close imitation of his/her language and thoughts and representing them as one's own original work; plagiarism is not only dishonest, it can be illegal, depending on the circumstances.

As induction into and maintaining membership within National Honor Society (NHS) is based on a student's outstanding scholarship, leadership, service, and character, I understand that I will forfeit my right to be eligible for induction into NHS if I do not demonstrate the highest standards of honesty, reliability, and respect as outlined in the NHS Handbook. I furthermore understand that I will be dismissed from NHS once I am a member if I do not continue to maintain the standards for which I was selected.
